AWFUL SKIN DISEASE

Child a Mass of Raw, Bleeding Sores. Miraculous Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

A face, from the hair to the neck on both sides, a raw mass of bleeding sores; two little hands and arms in the same condition; a body covered around the waist of which was a broad band of bleeding eruptions, and from the hips to the tips of her toes the skin was so raw as to be absolutely sickening to the sight. Such was the condition of my little daughter, who has been so afflicted almost from birth. I have had three doctors experiment on her, but she seemed to be getting worse every day. I was almost distracted. Every night I had to bandage her all over, and the mornings on her hands to prevent her from digging the raw flesh with her fingers. Mr. Faulkner said he believed that CUTICURA RESOLVENT would cure her. He offered to bear the expense. At that time she was worse than I had ever seen her, and there seemed no prospects of recovery. CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP have wrought a miracle. To-day her skin is smooth and fair, and I believe she has entirely recovered." The above is true in every particular, and I refer to Mr. W. Woodever, druggist.

The people at the World's Dispensary of Buffalo, N. Y., have a stock-taking time once a year and what do you think they do? Count the number of bottles that've been returned by the men and women who say that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery or Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription didn't do what they said it would do.

And how many do you think they have to count. One in ten? Not one in five hundred!

Here are two remedies—one the Golden Medical Discovery, for regulating and invigorating the liver and purifying the blood; the other, the hope of weakly womanhood, and they've been sold for years, sold by the million bottles: sold under a positive guarantee, and not one in five hundred can say:

"It was not the medicine for me!"

And—is there any reason why you should be the one? And—supposing you are what do you lose? Absolutely nothing!

Literary News and Notes.

The April number (monthly part) of Golden Days is unusually attractive. Jas. Elverson, publisher, Philadelphia.

The New Moon for April is full of fresh literary matter and crisp short stories. New Moon Pub. Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Home Maker for April is handsomely illustrated and contains a number of articles of more than ordinary interest, such as "Thomas Carlyle's Home and Home Life," "The N. Y. Z. in Paris," "Colonial Dames," besides several well written short stories. The department devoted to women's clubs and domestic economy are full of interesting matter.

A. E. Winship, editor of the Boston Traveller, declares that the charges of cruelty and neglect made by Dr. Wieth in the Century for April, regarding Southern war prisoners at Camp Morton, Indiana, in 1864, are the purest fictions. Mr. Winship was in the Sixtieth regiment at Camp Morton. He says that documents are available for the disproval of every specific in this case.

The May Pet'rson is at hand with a large invoice of good things. "Mamie in her Garden" is a charming picture, and the engraving of the harbor of "The Isle of Wight" is very striking. The opening article "Some Curious Rocks and Waterfalls," by Rodney T. Waterman is capitally written and the illustrations are interesting in the extreme. "The Romance of an Old Red School House," by Elva J. Smith is a story quite out of the common.

The popular "Buck" Ewing, captain of the New York's, has written an article for the Boy's Department of The Ladies' Home Journal for June, on the "Ins and Outs of Baseball," in which the famous catcher will tell how to play the game; how to form a nine; the hardest positions and how to fill them; how to throw a ball, etc. This is Ewing's first article, and it is said to be the best which has been written for boys on the great national game.

The Art Amateur for April contains a double-page colored supplement, a basket of flowers, a marine study and a chef d'œuvre of game decoration. These colored supplements are issued with each number of the Art Amateur, and they are alone worth much more than the subscription price, $4 per year. The magazine itself is both entertaining and instructive, and portrays Bloomfield, Monroe Marks, Publisher, 23 Union Square, New York.

If She Will as Will, by M. A. Denison, is No. 8, in Lee and Shepard's "Good Company Series," which is to be commended for the attractive get-up, including the type, paper and printing. Mrs. Denison's previous works have served her well for her great popularity, and this story of American life will certainly increase the ranks of her admirers, as it is undoubtedly the best she has given to the public since the publication of "That Husband of Mine." The moral in "If She Will, she Will," is very apparent, but the reader is carelessly thrown off the scent, so that the reader's interest is held until the last chapter. The character of Andrew Lample, the solicitor, is a very strong one, and the experiences of Margy, Irish which arise out of the complications of the poor, are very dramatic, while the reader will love and sympathize with Daisy, in her perplexities, to the end.

A Story of a Shell and a Stamer, by Rose Terry Cooke, is published in the popular Riverside Paper Series of Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston. By general consent, "Steadfast" is the best story Mrs. Cooke has ever written, and this is saying a great deal, for she is one of the best of American story-writers. It is a story of colonial New England, and as the Christian Union remarks: "Incidentally the story shows the old New England life with the utmost fidelity, and with a sweet aroma of civilization. No one knows better the historical ground over which she has passed for the social side than Mrs. Cooke, and she has reproduced the atmosphere of that now remote age by the delicacy of her insight and the power of her sympathy. Moreover, the minor characters are capitally drawn, and represent the homely and humorous side of old New England life in all their variety and charm. The book is pervaded by a great earnestness of spirit, and in its effects it is akin with the best and with the type of character with which it deals so successfully."

The jury on economic and social matters of the French International Exposition of 1889 have awarded a gold medal to Hon. David A. Wells, of Norwich, Conn., in recognition of the value of his contributions to economic science and literature.

The little fact that our exports of furniture and manufactures of wood, which averaged $22,000,000 a year from 1885 to 1889, reached $28,000,000 in 1890, is an interesting reflection on the Bourbon dogma that a protective tariff "stifles" foreign trade.

A number of French capitalists have made an offer to the Russian government to build the Siberian Railway from Tchelkabinsk to Vladivostok, a distance of 7,418 verds, receiving payment either in railway bonds or by a loan of 300,000,000 credit roubles.

At the Loyal Legion dinner in New York recently General Swayne, speaking of Sherman, said: "We know how tired the dear old General was of hearing 'Marching Thro' Georgia,' but let us sing it to his memory." And it was sung with rousing voice.

Some of the striking curiosities at the citric exhibition at Los Angeles are horse cars apparently made of oranges; a clock tower 24 feet high, composed of oranges, lemons, limes and raisins; a model of the San Gabriel Mission made of small, fragrant Tangerine oranges.

On account of the nine-hour agitation in the Massachusetts Legislature the owners of the Fall River mills have decided to pay many of their employes hereafter by the hour. Those who have heretofore had a full day's pay for seven hours' work will be paid for the number of hours worked.

Charles F. Pidgin, for nearly 20 years prominently connected with the Massachusetts Bureau of Statistics under Carrol D. Wright, has been appointed Chief of the Census Division of Fish and Fisheries, pending an investigation into charges which have been preferred against Prof. Smyr the former chief.

Ten Minneapolis mills, with a daily output of 20,000 barrels, have formed a combination against the great Pillsbury-Washburn English syndicate. The owners of the mills say that they were compelled either to go into a combine of their own or go under the wing of the great institution managed by C. A. Pillsbury.

One of Maine's Soldiers.

At one time during the war President Lincoln reviewed the army and made his visit an occasion to shake hands with, and speak a pleasant word to many of the soldiers. Among others he kindly greeted Joshua Jellison, of this city, who is taller than Mr. Lincoln was. As the President took his hand he said in his humorous way: "I have shaken hands with hundreds to-day, but you are the first man I have seen that I could look up to!" Ellsworth American.

I Will Never!

Allow myself to suffer again what I have suffered for the last year. The vile disease, Dyspepsia, gave me no comfort. I could not eat nor enjoy anything. The doctors amounted to nothing; nothing seemed to relieve me, until I used a bottle of Sulphur Bitters. Four bottles made me well.—Joseph Batchelder, Master of Schr. C. A. Baker.

Mrs. Bright. "What did you get this rough cloth for? I told you to ask for smooth faced ladies' cloth." Mr. Bright. "Well, the clerk said this would do for smooth-faced ladies as well as any other.

We're are not waiting for the hats and moles but for men and women who have eyes and use them, who have brains and reason! There's a new world for them—suffering and sickly as they are—a new world created from the brain of a skillful physician—a discovery—the "Golden Medical Discovery."

Years ago Dr. Pierce found out that the secret of all scrofula, bronchial, throat and lung trouble lay—in the beginning at least—in impure blood and the weak tone of the system; that the way to cure these effects was to remove the cause, that human nature being the same, the same results might be looked for in nearly all cases. So confident was he that the exceptions were uncommon that he took the risk of giving the medicine to those it didn't benefit, or nothing, and the results have proved that he was right.

And "Golden Medical Discovery" is the remedy for the million! The only unexcelled Liver, Blood and Lung remedy. Your money back if it doesn't do you.

That was a curious omission of a letter that Jones made in writing to his friend Smith, who had gone fishing. In his epistle he wrote: "Drop me a line now and then." And now they do not speak when they pass by.

"WHY, ARE YOU SICK?"

"I know precisely how you feel: it is that nervous irritable feeling, your back troubles you, and when you try to rest a little, your headaches. I ought that so? I knew it. Oh, bother the doctor! Get a bottle of Vegetable Compound, and take it faithfully, as I have done. I've been through this thing myself, but am never troubled now. Does it tell you, dear?"

Prudent women who best understand their ailments, find in the Compound a remedy for all those distressing ills that require prompt and effective treatment as a guaranty to good health.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

The Best

Blood Medicine

So say Leading Physicians and Druggists, and their opinion is indorsed by thousands cured by it of Scrofula, Eczema, Erysipelas, and other diseases of the blood.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla has won its reputation by years of valuable service to the community. It is the best."—R. S. Lang, Druggist, 212 Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass.

Dr. W. P. Wright, Paw Paw Ford, Tenn., says: "In my practice, I invariably prescribe Ayer's Sarsaparilla for chronic diseases of the blood."

Dr. R. R. Boyle, Third and Oxford sts., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "For two years I have prescribed Ayer's Sarsaparilla in numerous instances, and I find it highly efficacious in the treatment of all disorders of the blood."

L. M. Robinson, Pharmacist, Sabina, O., certifies: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has always been a great seller. My customers think there is no blood-purifier equal to it."

"For many years I was afflicted with scrofulous running sores, which, at last, became so bad the doctors advised amputating one of my legs to save my life. I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla and soon saw an improvement. After using about two dozen bottles the sores were healed. I continue to take a few bottles of this medicine each year, for my blood, and am no longer troubled with sores. I have tried other reputed blood purifiers, but none does so much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—D. A. Robinson, Neal, Kansas.
